

OPERATIONS MANAGER

United Alloy, the premier Rock County metal fabrication and powder painting company in Janesville Wisconsin, is currently seeking a highly motivated Operations Manager. This position manages and directs the entire manufacturing process and facility and is responsible for all operational aspects of the manufacturing process and the related reporting requirements.

The Operations Manager position requires a Bachelors Degree and/or 5 years of management/supervisory experience in a manufacturing environment. A solid understanding of metal fabrication concepts and processes is preferred.

The Operations Manager will be responsible for overseeing labor reporting, work center utilization, efficiency and scrap to contribute to the organization's profitability. This position will maintain an operational budget, provide all work centers and laborers with the necessary tools to carry out processes to meet delivery requirements. The Operations Manager will oversee production schedule to meet delivery dates to customers. Other requirements are: Ability to give and receive feedback, strong leadership with the ability to get results through mentoring skills, effectiveness when dealing with all levels of personnel, and demonstrated ability to work in a results orientated, challenging environment. Continuous improvement and participation in Safety and Quality is also required.

Qualified candidates must successfully complete panel interview, background check, and pre-employment drugscreen.

Interested candidates may send their resume to: humanresources@unitedalloy.com

Equal Opportunity Employer